Cultivating Mushrooms

Join us for a fascinating and fun, day-long workshop that will show you how to grow your own delicious organic mushrooms.

How cool is that?

Field and Forest Products, Inc. will be sharing their deep knowledge and guiding us through the process. The morning will focus on the how-to's of mushroom cultivation. In the afternoon, it will be all hands-on with inoculations and demos of traditional equipment, plus the latest equipment from Japan.

All materials will be provided.

We will enjoy a delicious mushroom themed lunch.

Field and Forest Products, Inc has been cultivating mushrooms since 1983. They are purveyors of organically grown mushrooms, education, cultivation equipment and supplies for growers. They are committed to overall sustainability and renewability in the environment.
